A warm welcome to those attending this year's One World Film Festival:

It is with great pleasure that I offer my greetings to all those in attendance of the 28th annual screening of the One World Film Festival, taking place at Saint Paul University from September 28th to October 1st of this year.

One World Arts has provided an invaluable forum for making global issues understood and accessible to citizens of all ages through cinema. Education through the arts is something I am incredibly proud to support due to its effective and dynamic engagement of the public. It is with deep regrets that I am unable to attend, but I am sure the festival will be a great success.

I would like to acknowledge and thank all of the volunteers, sponsors and documentary producers of One World Arts for their passion and dedication. Without whom the One World Arts would not be the longest-running documentary film festival in Ottawa.

After this evening I would encourage you to continue your artistic education in Canada's capital by exploring the rich culture that Ottawa has to offer.

Again, allow me convey my best wishes and greatest thanks to One World Arts for providing an innovative festival for the citizens of Ottawa.

Yours sincerely,

The Hon. Catherine McKenna, P.C., M.P.
